

DECISION TREE

For determining whether an Order made under the Rail Vehicle Accessibility Exemption Orders (Parliamentary Procedures) Regulations 2008 is subject to negative or affirmative resolution

Notwithstanding the provisions summarised in this tree, the Regulations also provide that the Secretary of State retains discretion to determine whether any particular Order should be subject to negative or affirmative resolution. When exercising this discretion he must take into account the views of DPTAC

This decision tree has been prepared by DfT Rail Standards & Safety Division. If there is any divergence between this tree and the requirements of the above Regulations, then the Regulations prevail.
