

Preserved Pensions

Overview and History. Veterans who have served in the Armed Forces since 1975 and did not qualify for an immediate pension may be entitled to a Preserved Pension(PP).

Prior to 6 April 1975 there was no provision for a preservation of pension benefits and Service personnel who left the Armed Forces had to have completed 16 years service from age 21 (Officers) or 22 years from age 18 (Other Ranks) to be eligible for a pension. Those who left before that date, without completing the above criteria, had no pension entitlement unless they were medically retired.

Pension rules changed on 06 April 1975 for pensions to be preserved for payment at age 60 for all those discharged over the age of 26 with a minimum of 5 years service. In 1978 the age criterion was removed. On 06 April 1988 the qualifying period was reduced from 5 to 2 years. The Armed Forces Pension Scheme (AFPS) 75 PP whose service ended before 6 April 2006 should claim their pensions, from SPVA, at age 60.

AFPS 75 pensioners whose service ended after 6 April 2006 but who had at least 2 years service before 6 April 2006 should claim the proportion of their pension which relates to their pre 6 April 2006 service at age 60 with the remainder becoming payable at age 65.

Early Payment of Preserved Pensions. Preserved Pensions may be paid early, subject to consideration by SPVA, if a Veteran has become permanently unable to work full-time, in any capacity, through ill-health, and this condition will continue until preserved pension age. Early payment of the pension may be subject to review and stopped if it is considered that the criterion for payment was no longer met.

Early Payment of Preserved Pensions with Actuarial Reduction. PP may be claimed early with an actuarial adjustment to take account of the longer period for which the pension will be in payment. The ages from which this form of early payment may be claimed are:

- AFPS 75 - the proportion of the preserved pension payable at age 65 may be claimed from age 60;

- AFPS 05 - from age 55. Such a claim will not affect any EDP payments which are being paid.
- Reserve Forces Pension Scheme (RFPS) - from age 55.

2009 changes to DWP rules on the age at which Pension Credit Members' benefits may be paid have allowed us to make a rule change in all the above schemes to allow those whose benefits had not yet been paid to claim them from age 55 with actuarial reduction.
